no tutorial, bad quality... This game I played for long time. I enjoy at first, very bad, but funny good way. Soon, I get to room. Very big, hurt my computer so frames so bad. While frames bad I need secret key passage to find 3 of them. I look all over room with bad frames but keys hard to find with shaking. I find 2, BIG SUCCESS. But other key, where to find do I? I do not find. I give up. Cry tears, many. Mom asks why I cry, I say this game. We both cry. I miss dad.. I was on the fence on whether to get this game or not. I quite like a good indie game, having said that; most of my library consists of indie games. I understand the limitations of indie game development as well as that quite often developers overcharge for games such as this. This looked alright from the description etc, jumpscare and things make for alright indie horror games even where budget is low so I was quite hopeful going into it.

Gameplay; So it plays as your box standard arcade horror game, you can walk, run, use your flashlight etc. At the beginning you have to avoid the monster, then later on you get a gun and the monsters have to avoid you, pretty simple.

My recommendation is based on the price being reduced at £2.87, I don't think, in my opinion, that it is worth almost £5 (But then I guess price is subjective). I'd recommend based on that it is a working game, the initial few levels look like the developer put some thought into the design and built up quite an atmosphere considering the graphics etc. However once you get a gun, it turns into a shooter and that turned me off of the game to be honest. I will play forward and try to beat the game and will adjust my review if required. It was somewhat jarring how the game switches pace and that serves to kill the atmosphere created thus far which is a shame, as it did actually have me on edge for the first two levels.

Just for anyone still on the fence about how the game plays etc I've made a video (No adverts etc) purely as a first look and to show raw footage of the game, as I can't find any other videos of it out there.
